- Soviet army rations have been drastically cut since 25 April 1948 while simultaneously food is being stockpiled. There are reports from Mauen, 1. Minsdorf, Neuruppin, Ebersualde, and Rathenow of Soviet officers attempting to buy black warket food. In Minedorf twenty-five officers who were seeking food claimed that there had been no bread ration for five days previously.
- 5° Minsdorf depots, including requisitioned garages, dancehalls, etc., are said to be correlately filled with food. On 20 April 1948 four trains of ninety cars each arrived in Prenzlau. The depots were stocked so the trains were routed to Angerminde where two silos were requisitioned for storage. Baruth (E-99) has become a large supply depot.
